

HIGH POINT SIXTH

According to statistics, High Point ranks sixth in the furniture manufacturing business, the cities leading in this industry being as follows: Chicago, $22,889,716; New York, $13,806,000; Grand Rapids, $12,829,526; Philadelphia, $9,150,222; St. Louis, $6,035,838; High Point, $2,436,266.

TUBERCULOSIS THRIVES AMONG TEACHERS

That teachers are specially prone to tuberculosis is the statement made by the Bureau of Educational Hygiene of the city of New York. This department says that this disease is twenty per cent more prevalent among teachers than among others of corresponding sex and age, and that about half of all deaths among women teachers is caused by tuberculosis, and this in spite of the fact that teachers belong to a better hygienic grade than the general average.

Strenuous nerve-taxing work that causes physical exhaustion and nerve break-down is given as the main cause. Terman states that "four hours of actual teaching represents about eight hours of ordinary office work." What is probably the second cause is lack of sufficient rest and regular exercise in the open air.

IN MEMORIAM

LUCY N. OAKS

(By Zeb V. Walser)

Mrs. Oaks was the wife of John Alexander Oaks and died in the early morning of July 9th, 1916, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Davis, in West Lexington. Her husband had preceded her many years. She was born August 7th, 1840 and was married August 23, 1855. Two children survive her, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. R. L. Wright, wife of Hon. R. Lee Wright, a prominent member of the Salisbury bar. She had one son, Pleasant C. Oaks, who was killed several years ago while in the discharge of his duties as chief of police of the county seat of Hoke, Raeford. The writer was reared with this boy. He was brave as a lion. Fear he did not know. He was named for his father's brother, his uncle, Pleasant C. Oak's, one of the bravest men who ever went forth to battle. Dr. Beall, of this county now dead, relates in his history of the 23rd North Carolina Regiment, included in the Five-Volume Regimental History of North Carolina, some wonderful feats of daring by this doughty fighter. Young Pleasant left a large young family some of whom are already winning a name for themselves. Miss Lucile Oaks is already a writer of most charming verse. Miss Clayton Oaks recently at the Normal pageant at Greensboro distinguished herself as the player of one of the most important parts of As You Like It. The writer was present and was greatly impressed with the real genius displayed in this histrionic effort.

Mrs. Oaks was the daughter of Henry Walser. For high on to fifty years he was prominent in the affairs of the county and the recipient of many honors, being one of the first representatives in the state legislature after the formation of the county. She had several sisters and brothers. Henry Clay Walser, Gaither Walser and Frederick Taylor Walser were the brothers. Mrs. Margaret Phillips, Mrs. P. S. Ella Owen and Mrs. Cynthia Smith were the sisters. The descendants of Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Owen live mainly in the county. Mrs. Smith had but one child who lives in the war-stirred Eagle Pass, Texas. Clay died many years ago. The three daughters of his are living in South Carolina and Georgia. The oldest, Ella, married H. E. Harman, the Atlanta poet. Taylor Walser is living in Statesville and is the last of the children. He has had much trouble at times with the curious who recognize him as the Mark Twain. I would like to add more to this paper but space is lacking. I hope some day to write of the old days in the county.

"Aunt Lucy," as the writer knew the subject of this sketch, was a woman of strong mind and noble heart. She lived most of her life at Yadkin College and is remembered by the Yadkin "boys" in all parts of the state. I shall ever hear in memory her kindly salutations: "Howdy, Zeb." Those eyes were ever filled with love and light. Like Dorcas of old she went about doing good. The great tide has swept her into the eternal morning.

SAVE MONEY BY READING.

The Review is being liberally patronized by the merchants of High Point to advertise their many splendid values for the trade and this alone should be a big inducement for you to subscribe to The Review so as to be able to keep up with the splendid bargains advertised from week to week. By missing these values advertised you will lose ten times the subscription price of The Review within a year. Be wise.

A CHAIN OF STILLS

The officers who cut up the two stills near High Point last week believe that these two are a chain of stills being operated by blind tiger dealers. Since the quart law has cut so badly into their business whiskey is hard to get and this scheme was hatched in the fertile brain of the law breakers. Pretty good conclusion to draw, whether right or wrong.

VOLUNTEERS AFTER SHARKS

New York, July 25.--A volunteer party of expert shark hunters, led by Sergeant William Dube, United States Marine Corps, retired, is forming in Brooklyn for the purpose of ridding the Jersey coast of the vicious sea tigers that have taken the lives of four persons in the last two weeks.

Many members of the party forming are ex-marines with records for shark killing that stretch from Sub-bay to San Pedro de Macoris. Sergeant Dube himself has killed many of the leviathans of the deep. The Brooklyn volunteers will use hook and line and salt pork bait.
